Adkins Arboretum Offers Waterfront Landscape Design Program Nov. 9

Waterfront properties present homeowners with both daunting challenges and precious opportunities. Learn to address the challenges and embrace the opportunities on Sun., Nov. 9, when landscape designer and native plant enthusiast Chris Pax presents Designing for Waterfront Landscapes at Adkins Arboretum.

Lead designer of the Arboretum's Native Landscape Design Center, Pax is a graduate of the George Washington University sustainable landscape design master's program. She will discuss ideal plants for waterfront landscape conditions and will review some of the special rules and regulations that apply to waterfront properties. Participants may bring plat diagrams and photos.

Designing for Waterfront Landscapes runs from 1 to 3 p.m. The program fee is $35 for members, $45 for non-members. Advance registration is required at adkinsarboretum.org or by calling 410.634.2847, ext. 0.

###

Adkins Arboretum is a 400-acre native garden and preserve at the headwaters of the Tuckahoe Creek in Caroline County. Open year round, the Arboretum offers educational programs for all ages about nature and gardening. Through its Campaign to Build a Green Legacy, it will build the W. Flaccus and Ruth B. Stifel Center at Adkins Arboretum and a "green" entranceway to broaden educational offerings and research initiatives promoting best practices in conservation and land stewardship. For additional information about Arboretum programs, visit www.adkinsarboretum.org or call 410-634-2847, ext. 0.
