Great American Campout is June 25 & 26 at Adkins Arboretum

Welcome summer by participating in the National Wildlife Federation's Great American Campout, June 25 and 26 at Adkins Arboretum! Join a naturalist-led “walk and wade” along the Blockston Branch, roast hot dogs and marshmallows, catch fireflies, take a flashlight hike and scan the night sky with Delmarva Stargazers. Children’s crafts, campfire songs, spooky stories, a morning bike ride, and squirt gun and sprinkler time round out the fun.

Campers should bring their own water bottles, camping gear, flashlights and a side dish to share. Bikes, guitars and water pistols are optional. The Arboretum will provide hot dogs, buns, marshmallows, paper goods and breakfast.

The campout is $20 for adults, $10 for children. Reserve your spot at adkinsarboretum.org, or call 410-634-2847, ext. 0. Visit adkinsarboretum.org for a schedule of events.
